Notes from our President

Joyce Woods

Hello! Thank goodness for winter sunshine! It was a cold January but it seems to me there is always a really nice week or two in February, to remind me why I moved to New Mexico!

Your Board met both in January and February, gearing up for another great year. We have a budget! Your chapter is healthy and growing.

My personal objective is to create more opportunities for members to get to know each other better. One way is to engage more new members in chapter activities. Involvement can make membership more fun and rewarding. As Mark Wilson recently shared, he had no idea how amazing our local aviation community is until he got involved.

Each month, we get surprised by new (or long lost) attendees at our 3rd Tuesday gatherings. Frank Beckwith declared in December that he was the newest pilot, having passed his checkride that day. Mike Gaffney came in January, saying that once his RV recovers from being under 12 ft of water in the Asheville, NC floods, he's moving it out to Albuquerque where it won't happen again! Maria Vianco announced starting her own mechanic business—so let her know if she can help!

Jim Kessler held an Aviation Academy (DEAA) kickoff meeting and the core group is on board. But he'd still love to recruit some new participants, so let him know if you're interested. Sean Babbit stepped up to serve as LOEFI chair so our Fly In planning will be underway soon. If you missed it, you can read about him in our December newsletter.

Doug Volker has volunteered to lead a chapter fundraising effort. More info as this effort gets defined. We've been doing well on raising funds, but then we have so many new folks (youth and adults) coming to us wanting to learn to fly. And we know that takes $$$$$, and several of our members are really helping folks navigate the challenging path to a pilot certificate.

The Acro project has moved ahead—so exciting for our chapter to be a part of this. As Konrad Werner says, "it looks like a professional paint job . . . because it is!!!!" Thanks to Eclipse Aviation and our member Eric Achen for arranging that. Our aviation network is awesome — with that and our EAA "can do" spirit, it seems like we could make anything happen. And we do! More info on all this later in this newsletter.

Besides our monthly gatherings and IMC Club meetings, the Board has scheduled Young Eagle rallies, a Flying Start/Eagle Flight event, DEAA - Aviation Academy for teens, and our annual fly-in (LOEFI). Lee Otto has kicked off our Pietenpol aircraft restoration project and Kevin Frick is looking for help to join him and promote aviation careers and Young Eagles flights at a middle school career fair. Lance Hunter and Mark Wilson met with the city to start planning for an April Fun Run—a 5K on Runway 17/35!

We accomplish what we do because members volunteer their time, energy, and expertise. A great way to start is to just show up for an event, get to know others, and see where things go from there! Or talk to any board member and we'll figure out a good fit! But no worries if that's not your thing — we appreciate your membership and support regardless.

I've been away, getting some repairs on the "old body". Thanks to Joyce (and other contributors) for putting together this month's Newsletter – great job.

You'll see below 'banners' for two of our major events for this year, plus of course Young Eagles and Double Eagle Aviation Academy. Click to download your copy, print, put on your fridge, and pass along copies to friends and acquaintances. The more the merrier, they say.

January Chapter Gathering – RECAP

by Eric Achen

Chapter 179 member Carol Sugars introduced a short "Discovery Channel" video segment of a series of flights she undertook in 2007 and 2008 that demonstrated the practicality of sustainable, non petroleum based biofuels in turbo-jet aircraft.

She then facilitated a comprehensive question and answer session covering some of the technical, operational and financial aspects of sustainable aviation fuels. She has agreed to return at a later meeting to cover other alternative fuel types being considered for general and commercial aviation.

Following her presentation, James Allagio, longtime EAA member, flight test pilot and instructor who was literally raised on an airport by EAAers shared his basic impromptu reminders of pilot safety. Thanks for joining us during your Albuquerque visit!

Scholarship Update

Art Woods and Rowan Phlieger, Scholarship Coordinators

Ray Scholar to Private Pilot

Congratulations to Dominic Martinez, who passed his checkride on February 8th!

He was awarded Chapter 179's Ray Scholarship in June 2024. Just a few scant months ago, Dominic had solo'd under the direction of his CFI Mateo at Del Sol Aviation. And 6 months later, we're extremely proud of his accomplishment to join the rank of private pilots!!

Dominic attended Double Eagle Aviation Academy (DEAA) in 2023, to learn all things aviation. He also became a captain on his high school swimming team this past winter. He now has his sights set on UNM and continuing with Del Sol for his advanced ratings. Could be a few late nights studying for all those exams!

Acro I Project - for Display at Albuquerque Aviation Academy (formally SAMS)

Preparing for Paint

The opportunity by Eclipse Aviation to paint the aircraft provided motivation to move quickly. Chapter volunteers devised and executed an amazing game plan to deliver the aircraft for paint on Jan 14th.

First, the aircraft was reassembled, to be sure everything still fit and that we know how! It was weighed and the current CG determined to assist engineers designing the mounting structure.

Now for sanding – although nearly ready, we gave the entire aircraft once over with 220 grit. We thought it important to seal any holes to discourage critters from making it their home.

The fuselage was essentially ready except for the holes where the gear protruded. The cowl had six exhaust pipe holes which were filled. Thanks to the expertise and willingness to help, Lee Otto, EAA Technical Advisor, we accomplished this in a week's time. For the rest of us, we'd still be trying to mix the epoxy. He came with clecos and metal backplates. We used heat lamps to assure timely curing.

Konrad brought a friend who took on the challenging spinner that the rest of us were reluctant to start. Ted did an amazing Bondo job in a few hours. Not bad for just dropping in to see what was up!

A true labor of love, special thanks go to Warren Cox for allowing this to become a chapter project, to Konrad Werner and Eric Achen for leading various parts of the project, use of Art and Joyce's hangar, and dedicated help from Lee Otto, Joe Martinez, Tony (AAA student), Ted, and others who dropped in!

Retrieving Painted Parts

The Eclipse paint shop crew got right to it! About a week later, our crew picked up the wings and other completed parts. Dan Horschel, Doug Volker, and Mark Wilson joined the fray.

There is more to do but having the paint completed is a huge step and it looks incredible!

Pietenpol "Air Camper" Project

Lee Otto

A group of builders and some of our interested members met with me at the end of December in our chapter hanger. We discussed first items in our restoration to include

- An inspection by Jason Manzanares to confirm the airworthiness of the wooden structure and all the control components. That will happen in the coming days.
- Also, Jim Kessler volunteered to work on the instrument panel which we will improve and also add a simple set of instruments and a new panel for the second pilot. (front seat).

We agreed to set project work days as Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursdays. Anyone interested in joining in the work ... come on out.

Lee Otto, Lead reBuilder
N326JL (at) gmail.com

Late Update from Lee: Our Pietenpol inspection went great this morning. Jason found a few minor squawks. Most will need a little more glue or a small bit of wood work. Jason said our pulleys and cables are in good shape but we will need to run a soft cloth down each to insure that there are no broken strands. He worked carefully for 90 minutes and looked closely at the entire airframe. He would take no payment for his time. He asked us to consider this his donation for our project and he wants to stay involved as we go forward.

He wants to do the condition inspection when we finish. Lee

NM Aviation and Other Organizations and Resources Of Interest

The Editor

There are many organizations serving aviation interests in New Mexico. These include EAA Chapters and other such organizations, but also government agencies and commercial enterprises. In future months I plan to present a synopsis of the significance of some of these resources, what is interesting about them or what they offer in the way of enhancing our flying experiences.

This is a starter list of organizations that I have tracked down. If you know of others or have corrections or updates, please send me eMail at newsletter@eaa179.org. And if you use any of these regularly, please consider providing a synopsis and review. Thanks.
