Oshkosh!!!

I flew the C-170A with my camping gear and had a great time, as usual.

I was arriving, 25 miles out on Saturday Morning when they closed special VFRs into Oshkosh due to rain and low ceilings. I chose an airport a little further out than most - Adams County (63C). My Foreflight app was cluttered with airplanes all around me, and I wanted to avoid the traffic. About 10 minutes after I landed, my brother Van showed up in his Mooney. He had gotten in to about 4 miles of Fisk when the rain got too much for him to see. I thought he was still in Michigan with transmitter problems and was pleasantly surprised to see him.

The people at Adams County Airport were great to us and the six other people who also were headed to Oshkosh. We stayed there Saturday night and tried to get in OSH early Sunday morning but they were closed to special VFR so we returned to 63C until we heard on "LiveATC.net" that OSH was open for Special VFR arrivals. The ceiling was 1000 ft with good visibility but lots of other traffic when we flew in at about 1:30 PM.

We were directed to row 133 & 134 in Vintage Aircraft Camping, which is a long way south of the ultralight field. But the good news was that they now have some amenities there. We were right by a bus turnaround, where there was also a new Red One grocery, camper registration, departure briefings, nice showers, potable water, and out houses.

It was a record year for number of aircraft and attendance. Bigger and better than ever!

My Brother Tom from Roswell, flew into Madison on the airlines Wednesday. So we had a good time together. Lots to see and do.

I took some pictures to tell my story. You will find them in this issue. Thanks to Lee Otto for sending in his pictures of the One Week Wonder.

Several of our chapter members were in attendance including, but not limited to: Art and Joyce Woods, Dough and Marilyn Rhodes, Lee Otto, Art Tangen, Russ Prina, and me.

We will miss our good friend, Harry Davidson, the president of Cavalcade of Wings and the Albuquerque Aviation History group.

(June 25, 1935 — June 10, 2018)

IMC Club Update

Member Marc Coan of Santa Fe started our chapter's IMC Club last year and attracted a consistent and growing group of pilots who have not necessarily been involved in our chapter previously. Each month has resulted in an excellent discussion of what we would do in a series of particular scenarios.

Unfortunately, Marc is no longer able to serve as our IMC Club Program Coordinator. If you are interested to lead our program, let us know at chap-ter@eaa179.org

Join us! Land of Enchantment Fly-In

Albuquerque's Double Eagle II Airport
7AM - 3PM August 25, 2018

What's a Fly-In?

Similar to a car show, aircraft fly in to be judged, while spectators get to see a gathering of amateur built, antique and other unique aircraft — and meet their pilots, builders, and restorers! Expected highlights include the Chile Flight (formation flying team), helicopters, gliders, ultralights, and static displays of remote controlled aircraft.

What's there to do?

- Come out early to see aircraft as they arrive
- Catch the spectacular 8AM Opening Ceremony and flag raising, featuring the "Chile Flight"
- WIN A FLIGHT! Enter the raffle for a chance to fly in the poster VELOCITY aircraft!
- Stroll the ramp of aircraft, military vehicles, and classic cars. See past Aircraft Award winners!
- Browse the Exhibit Hall of aviation suppliers, educational institutions, and nonprofit organizations
- Learn about aviation education, careers, technology, in the Exhibit Hall and Aviation Careers SEMINAR
- Enjoy EAA 179's FREE pancake breakfast and/or fajita lunch, donations accepted
- Try riveting at the Builders' Corner! 3D Printing! Talk to aircraft builders!
- Engage the kids in the Youth Aviators Center
- PILOTS! Attend SEMINARS about flying New Mexico, or starting a flying club!
- Shop EAA 179's Fly Mart and buy used aviation treasures!

EAA Needs Volunteers for Balloon Fiesta!

The EAA Spirit of Aviation Mobile Experience is coming to the Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta, for Thursday October 11 through Sunday, October 14, 2018, and your help is needed! Help spread the passion for EAA by volunteering at the exhibit!

Volunteers will assist with greeting visitors and helping with hands-on activities, which include making a cookie cutter out of aircraft materials and building a foam glider airplane. Several volunteers are needed per day. Note that last year, activities had to be limited since there were not enough volunteers.

Volunteers must be able to work a full session morning and/or evening. They need folks to sign up for specific days and times as we get closer. Here is the schedule for your planning. The trailer will not be open the first weekend.

VOLUNTEER TIMES:

Thursday through Sunday Morning (Oct 11 – 14)	5:00AM – 10:30AM
Thurs, Fri, Sat Afternoon (Oct 11, 12, 13)	4:00PM – 9:00 PM
